

HEADS-UP

TRAINING

HEADS-UP is an EU-funded program that will develop various educational tools and resources to inform and enlighten teachers and front line workers dealing with young adults in all educational settings and adults at risk of online threats and radicalisation.

HEADS-UP project brings something new to the anti-radicalization education and training environment.

This training is vocated for parents! It is innovative based on videos highlighting potential threats that exist in on-line environments.

Supporting parents to understand the digital lives of their children can have a long-term impact in terms of safety and security, social cohesion and the promotion of family values in on-line environments.

HOW I BENEFIT WITH THE TRAINING?

I will be able to identify and address potential radicalisation.
